We used Tensorflow as our model framework for model training and inference.
We used Pachi's board.c as our base library to handle Go rules and board functions.
All other parts of our code are original.